

Links to other sources of information

The Internet carries a huge amount of information regarding the PSA test and early prostate cancer. But beware: some websites are excellent, while others have misleading or redundant information.

The sites listed below have been health-checked by doctors and are considered to contain accurate information, regularly updated.

Please bear in mind that Prostate Cancer Research Foundation cannot accept responsibility for external content.

Macmillan Cancer Support >

Europe's leading cancer information service, with over 4,500 pages of up-to-date cancer information, practical advice and support for cancer patients, their families and carers.

UK Prostate Link >

Information on all aspects of prostate cancer, run as part of the Prostate Cancer Charter for Action

Cancer Black Care>

Information for the BME community

The Prostate Cancer Charity >

Provide support and information on all aspects of prostate cancer. Their helpline number is 0800 074 8383

Prostate Cancer Support Federation >

The Prostate Cancer Support Federation is an organisation of UK patient-led prostate cancer support groups. It is the only UK-wide patient-led charity that acts and speaks for prostate cancer patients and their families

Amedeo >

Information on world wide research into prostate cancer

NHS Direct >

Information for patients within the UK

London Urology Associates >

More information on new treatments in the London Area

Prostate cancer factsheet >

From BUPA

Cancer Help>

Website from Cancer Research UK

Prostate Cancer Support >

Patient lead information site